

This letter discusses the taxability of maintenance agreements. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.301. (This is a GIL).

August 28, 2000

Dear Xxxxx:

This letter is in response to your letter dated June 20, 2000. The nature of your letter and the information you have provided require that we respond with a General Information Letter, which is designed to provide general information, is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.120(b) and (c), which can be found on the Department's Web site at www.revenue.state.il.us/legalinformation/regs/part1200.

In your letter, you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

As of today, we are updating our records on the above subject in every State where we respond to the administration of claims against Vehicle Service Contracts. Hence, to enable us to comply with applicable tax laws on the matter, we would like to request your cooperation in clarifying our queries, to wit:

1. As dealers issuing and servicing the vehicle service or warranty contracts, do we pay sales taxes on authorized repairs of covered vehicles specifically for parts, labor or deductible? If so, please explain.
2. As transient dealers (repair shops) who have nothing to do with the contracts but do the authorized repairs on our customers' covered vehicles, do they pay sales tax on those repairs for parts and labor? If so, why?

To assist us in understanding more about these sales taxes, kindly send us copies of applicable and recent tax laws, including registration requirements, if any.

Thank you very much for whatever invaluable assistance you may extend to us regarding these queries.

Under the Service Occupation Tax Act, servicemen are taxed on tangible personal property transferred as an incident to sales of service. See the enclosed copy of 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.101. The purchase of tangible personal property that is transferred to the service customer may result in either Service Occupation Tax liability or Use Tax liability for the servicemen depending upon which tax base the servicemen choose to calculate their tax liability. The servicemen may calculate their tax base in one of four ways: (1) separately stated selling price of tangible personal property transferred incident to service; (2) 50% of the servicemen's entire bill; (3) Service Occupation Tax on the servicemen's cost price if the servicemen are registered de minimis servicemen; or (4) Use Tax on the servicemen's cost price if the servicemen are de minimis and are not otherwise required to be registered under the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act.

Using the first method, servicemen may separately state the selling price of each item transferred as a result of the sale of service. The tax is based on the separately stated selling price of the tangible personal property transferred. If the servicemen do not wish to separately state the selling price of the tangible personal property transferred, the servicemen must use 50% of the entire bill to the service customer as the tax base. Both of the above methods provide that in no event may the tax base be less than the servicemen's cost price of the tangible personal property transferred.

The third way servicemen may account for tax liability only applies to de minimis servicemen who have either chosen to be registered or are required to be registered because they incur Retailers' Occupation Tax liability with respect to a portion of their business. Serviceman may qualify as de minimis if the servicemen determine that the annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred as an incident of the sale of service is less than 35% of the servicemen's annual gross receipts from service transactions (75% in the case of pharmacists and persons engaged in graphic arts production). This class of registered de minimis servicemen is authorized to pay Service Occupation Tax (which includes local taxes) based upon the cost price of tangible personal property transferred incident to the sale of service. They remit the tax to the Department by filing returns and do not pay tax to suppliers. They provide suppliers with Certificates of Resale for the property transferred to service customers.

The final method of determining tax liability may be used by de minimis servicemen that are not otherwise required to be registered under Section 2a of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act. Servicemen may qualify as de minimis if the servicemen determine that the annual aggregate cost price of tangible personal property transferred as an incident of the sale of service is less than 35% of the servicemen's annual gross receipts from service transactions (75% in the case of pharmacists and persons engaged in graphic arts production). Such de minimis servicemen may pay Use Tax to their suppliers or may self assess and remit Use Tax to the Department when making purchases from unregistered out-of-State suppliers. The servicemen are not authorized to collect "tax" from their service customer nor are the servicemen liable for Service Occupation Tax. It should be noted that servicemen no longer have the option of determining whether they are de minimis using a transaction by transaction basis.

The taxability of maintenance agreements depends upon if charges for the agreements are included in the selling price of the tangible personal property. If the charges for the agreements are included in the selling price of the tangible personal property, those charges are part of the gross receipts of the retail transaction and are subject to tax. No tax is incurred on the maintenance services or parts when the repair or servicing is performed.

If maintenance agreements are sold separately from tangible personal property, sales of the agreements are not taxable transactions. However, when maintenance services or parts are provided under the maintenance agreements, the service or repair companies will be acting as service providers under provisions of the Service Occupation Tax Act that provide that when service providers enter into agreements to provide maintenance services for particular pieces of equipment for stated periods of time at predetermined fees, the service providers incur Use Tax based on their cost price of tangible personal property transferred to customers incident to the completion of the maintenance service. See the enclosed copy of 86 Ill. Adm. Code 140.301(b)(3). Further, the purchaser of the separate agreement or warranty is not charged tax on the labor or tangible personal property that is transferred incident to the completion of the maintenance agreement. If a deductible is charged to the purchaser under the terms of the separate agreement, the deductible is also not subject to tax.

August 28, 2000

I hope this information is helpful. The Department of Revenue maintains a Web site, which can be accessed at www.revenue.state.il.us. If you have further questions related to the Illinois sales tax laws, please contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

If you are not under audit and you wish to obtain a binding Private Letter Ruling regarding your factual situation, please submit all of the information set out in items 1 through 8 of the enclosed copy of Section 1200.110(b).

Very truly yours,

Gina Roccaforte
Associate Counsel

GR:msk

Enc.